

Louisiana Reentry Guide

Dear Reader,

The Foundation for the Mid South is pleased to produce the Louisiana Reentry Guide. It is the hope of the Foundation for the Mid South that this directory will serve as an effective resource for those reentering communities throughout the state of Louisiana. The Foundation for the Mid South understands the many obstacles that returning ex-offenders face as they reintegrate into their families and neighborhoods. While these obstacles make reintegration difficult, there are many services and resources throughout the state of Louisiana that work to make this transition successful for ex-offenders, their families, and the communities to which they are returning. This directory is designed to connect people to services. It includes resources from national, state, and local agencies with the goal of being as comprehensive as possible. However, some information may prove to be missing. The information for each organization in the printed version and on the website has been provided by the service provider or from the organization's website. While every effort is made to provide current and accurate information for the agency descriptions and hours of operation, it is recommended to call the agency to verify the information before visiting. The editors cannot and do not vouch for the accuracy or quality of service available.

If you are aware of resources or organizations that should be added to the directory please see page ----for the Agency Update/Addition form.

Please direct any questions about the directory to: LAreentryguide@fndmidsouth.org

The mission of the Foundation for the Mid South is to invest in people and strategies that build philanthropy and promote racial, social, and economic equity in Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. The Foundation for the Mid South was established to bring together the public and private sectors and focus their resources on increasing social and economic opportunity. The Foundation focuses on strengthening four priorities that, we believe, are the bedrock for prosperous communities and a strong region including Education, Wealth Building, Community Development, and Health and Wellness. This directory is part of the Foundation's community development portfolio. For more information about Foundation for the Mid South, please visit: www.fndmidsouth.org

Unemployment Compensation

Provides eligible individuals with temporary, partial wage replacement so they can meet their basic financial needs while looking for a new job. In order to be eligible for benefits, jobless workers must demonstrate that they have worked, usually measured by amount of wages and/or weeks of work, and must be able and available for work. This means that unless you were employed in the year before you apply for benefits, you will not be eligible for unemployment insurance. Over our nearly sixty-year history, the ACLU of Louisiana has been at the forefront of the fight to preserve the civil liberties of all Louisianians. We have continued in our mission, fighting for the First Amendment, for racial justice, and for due process and privacy rights. We have defended the rights of women, prisoners, LGBT people, immigrants, and others whose rights have been at risk. Our work has covered the entire gamut of civil liberties, and has taken us all over the state and to the U.S. Supreme Court. It has been said that the fight for civil liberties never stays won; as cynical as that may sound, the ACLU of Louisiana remains confident that we—and justice—will prevail.

Re-Entry Court Program

Re-Entry Court allows nonviolent "short-timer" offenders to serve their sentence under the guidance of long-term offender mentors.

To participate, an offender must be sentenced to serve ten years or less, with a minimum of two years "in custody". Offenders must be referred by one of the criminal judges in the 19th JDC with the consent of the Assistant District Attorney, defense counsel, and the Re-Entry Judge.

Offenders must agree to participate in the Offender Rehabilitation and Workforce Development Program. Upon admission to prison, the Department of Corrections will administer a battery of assessments evaluating risk, level of education, prior vocational training, mental health and substance abuse history.

Once accepted, an offender must obtain a GED if he does not have a GED or a high school diploma. He must satisfactorily complete the coursework for at least one of the offered areas of instruction.

Capital Area Reentry Coalition is a partnership of businesses, nonprofits, government and faith based organizations working together to increase the success rates of citizens transitioning from incarceration back into society and reduce offender recidivism. Together with our partnering organizations they provide returning citizens with mentors, job referrals, industry training, housing options, rehabilitation services and more.

Re-Entry Court Program

Re-Entry Court allows nonviolent “short-timer” offenders to serve their sentence under the guidance of long-term offender mentors.

To participate, an offender must be sentenced to serve ten years or less, with a minimum of two years “in custody”. Offenders must be referred by one of the criminal judges in the 19th JDC with the consent of the Assistant District Attorney, defense counsel, and the Re-Entry Judge.

Offenders must agree to participate in the Offender Rehabilitation and Workforce Development Program. Upon admission to prison, the Department of Corrections will administer a battery of assessments evaluating risk, level of education, prior vocational training, mental health and substance abuse history.

Once accepted, an offender must obtain a GED if he does not have a GED or a high school diploma.
