"I enjoy sharing the beauty of the message art expresses."

I'm a multi-tribal Native American artist of Bad River Ojibwe and Oneida Nation descendency. My art is inspired by my culture and my love of Nature. Themes in my art often reflect traditional activities, oral history or stories. Cultural events and mother earth influence design and imagery in all creativity. My hope is that through my art, I can open a dialogue between all people so that we can understand one another. Thereby protecting the environment by appreciation and education.
