

Small Business Administration Microloan
<https://www.sba.gov/funding-programs/loans/microloans>

WHAT IS A MICROLOAN?

Smaller-size loans of up to $50,000 provided through SBA funding intermediaries. The microloan program provides loans up to $50,000 to help small businesses and certain not-for-profit childcare centers start up and expand. The average microloan is about $13,000. The SBA provides funds to specially designated intermediary lenders, which are nonprofit community-based organizations with experience in lending as well as management and technical assistance. These intermediaries administer the Microloan program for eligible borrowers.

AM I ELIGIBLE?

Each intermediary lender has its own lending and credit requirements. Generally, intermediaries require some type of collateral as well as the personal guarantee of the business owner.

HOW DO I USE A MICROLOAN?

Microloans can be used for a variety of purposes that help small businesses expand. Use them to rebuild, re-open, repair, enhance, or improve your small business. Examples include: Working capital, Inventory, Supplies, Furniture, Fixtures, Machinery, Equipment

SBA microloans cannot be used to pay existing debts or to purchase real estate.

WHAT DO I NEED TO APPLY?

Microloans are available through certain nonprofit, community-based organizations that are experienced in lending and business management assistance. Individual requirements will vary.

REPAYMENT: Maximum term allowed is 6 years.

INTEREST RATES vary by lender; generally, between 8% and 13%.

To apply for a microloan, work with an SBA-approved intermediary in your area. (Lenders as of Nov. '22 are listed below.) SBA-approved lenders make all credit decisions and set all terms for your microloan.

SK note: You will need a clear and concise business plan!

ASCENDUS

“Ascendus empowers low- to moderate-income (LMI) business owners with access to capital and financial education.”

We’re here to help you build assets and employment, and strengthen your community.

Are you eager, passionate, and courageous? Do you truly believe in your business and the good it provides? If so, then let’s talk.

Every entrepreneur is different. Every story is different. Every business is different. We understand this, which is why our loan products are customized to meet your business needs.

Knowledge leads to confidence and long-term success. From helping you build a business plan to connecting you with local partners and government agencies, we're committed to providing you with the expertise you need to succeed.

We are more flexible than other lenders. If you have a good idea or a thriving business, we can find a way to get the resources you need.

Here's the link to the SBA microloan program:

<https://www.sba.gov/funding-programs/loans/microloans>

You'll notice that they require you to go through an 'intermediary'. They also have Small Business Development Centers where you can work with a supportive person to get everything together:

Small Business Development Centers

Small Business Development Centers are a business owner's best friend. Local, regional, state, and national offices mentor small business owners and help them understand business financing options, craft marketing strategies, and connect to other local small business owners (and much more — these guys do it all). They help you navigate the grant process and they can help you with your business plan.

SCORE.org

SCORE promotes entrepreneurship training, tools and mentorship for American small business owners. SCORE is a free resource; they have many local experts that you can connect with. A SCORE mentor may help you identify local grant opportunities, or review your pitch to help you make it as compelling as possible.

Here's a FORBES article with lots of links to financing information (loans and grants) for entrepreneurs:

<https://www.forbes.com/advisor/business-loans/grants-for-felons/>

Where to look for Grants: "Nav" is a 'one stop shop' for small business development information

<https://www.nav.com/business-grants/#compare>

While I was looking for the loan info, I found this:

Fed Ex Small Business Grant Contest...annually since 2012 (one chance each year)

<https://www.fedex.com/en-us/small-business/grant-contest.html>

This should give you a good start to find info that could help you get your company up and running.

Sadly, orgs no longer provide mailing addresses, or designate staff to write letters. Forms are all online now, too.
